THE DEMOCRAT.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1852.

WORD TO ADVERTISERS.—All the advertisements appearing in the Daily Democrat are transferred to our Evening Edition, and receive a gratuity from us. Thus each patron of the morning paper has the advantage of an evening circulation to a distinct class of readers free of charge.

FACE THE MUSIC!

We are authored to make the following bet: $10,000 against $7,500, that FRANKLIN PIERCE will be elected President on the 2d of November, or less amounts in some proportion, to accommodate those weak in the faith.

Also, $100 each, on New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky, these to be taken together.

FACE THE MUSIC THE RIGHT WAY, AND NO DODGING.

The Courier is daily parading bets on one State and another, or some combination of States. The bets hitherto offered by the whigs are all on States that voted for Taylor; avoiding carefully the States that voted for Cass.

Now, we are authorized to offer a bet that will test the sincerity of the Scottites about here, on the point at issue. It's no matter what is thought about this or that State. Who will be elected? that's the question. Here is the offer:

$10,000 THAT FRANKLIN PIERCE WILL BE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES IN NOVEMBER NEXT.

In order, however, that our whig friends may be accommodated who do not wish to risk the $10,000 at a single dash, they are at liberty to bet from $1,000 upwards. It is hoped that they will walk up and "face the music."

WALK UP AND SHOW YOUR COURAGE.

We are authorized to make the following offer to the confident whigs:

1st. A gentleman will bet $500 that no whig can name three States that will vote for Scott; and $500 that he can name ten that will vote for Pierce—these to be taken together.

2d. $500 that no whig can name four States that will vote for Scott; and $500 that he can name ten that will vote for Pierce—these to be taken together.

4th. $500 that no whig can name six States that will vote for Scott; and $500 that he can name twelve that will vote for Pierce—these to be taken together.

Another Bantam! For River Men!!!

The owner of the Steamer LUNETTE, proposes to dispose of said Steamer for $15,000—which is thirty three per cent on cost—payable when Pierce is elected President of the U. States.

Here is a rare offer for those who have confidence, and a chance they should not let go by. Don't all speak at once.

Apply on the boat, or at the steamboating office of Messrs. Moore & Campbell, Water St., near Wall street.

RALLY, DEMOCRATS!!

DR. N. GREEN, a Southern slave man, and as a native Georgian, raised and educated in the State—also I ask of Gen. Pierce to like slavery, or the fugitive slave law. As a Southern master man, and as a native Georgian, raised and educated in the State—also I ask of Gen. Pierce, or any other Northern man, is to stand by the Constitution, as made by our Fathers. He has stood by it like a man, for the last twenty years, and "shoulder to shoulder" he has been with the men of the South, even in refusing to hear or consider even the petitions of the Abolitionists, while Daniel Webster and Winfield Scott were giving "aid and comfort" to these very wretches. Pierce still stands by that Constitution and the rights of the South under it, with all the frankness and boldness of former days; and much as I love Jenkins, I love my country more; and with the permission of God, Pierce will get my vote. I cannot throw it away, when so much is at stake. When such a man as Pierce, and such a one as Seward (for I look upon Scott as but the tool of Seward) are contending for the reins of the government, I feel that it is no time for a true and faithful son of the South, and of the Union to delay; or throw away his vote upon a "third" or hopeless ticket, even though it were entirely acceptable. And with these views and feelings, if I am bold to be carried to the polls, Pierce shall get my vote, although I have never, for any important office, voted for one calling himself a Democrat, before.

AN OLD WHIG.

HEAR AN OLD WHIG.—An old whig of Georgia has written an article for the Augusta Constitutionalist, in which he notices the New Boston speech, and says that he does not ask Gen. Pierce to like slavery, or the fugitive slave law. As a Southern master man, and as a native Georgian, raised and educated in the State—also I ask of Gen. Pierce, or any other Northern man, is to stand by the Constitution, as made by our Fathers. He has stood by it like a man, for the last twenty years, and "shoulder to shoulder" he has been with the men of the South, even in refusing to hear or consider even the petitions of the Abolitionists, while Daniel Webster and Winfield Scott were giving "aid and comfort" to these very wretches. Pierce still stands by that Constitution and the rights of the South under it, with all the frankness and boldness of former days; and much as I love Jenkins, I love my country more; and with the permission of God, Pierce will get my vote. I cannot throw it away, when so much is at stake. When such a man as Pierce, and such a one as Seward (for I look upon Scott as but the tool of Seward) are contending for the reins of the government, I feel that it is no time for a true and faithful son of the South, and of the Union to delay; or throw away his vote upon a "third" or hopeless ticket, even though it were entirely acceptable. And with these views and feelings, if I am bold to be carried to the polls, Pierce shall get my vote, although I have never, for any important office, voted for one calling himself a Democrat, before.

AN OLD WHIG.

[From the Knoxville Whig.]

There has not been a Presidential election in twenty years, at which the whig candidate did not promise to be more successful in Tennessee. The cry of Scott and his battles has been raised so often, that it falls dead upon the public ear.—We candidly confess, that Tennessee is a whig State, by a majority of 2,000 votes, and the whig party have created a balloon in christendom. From the reports with which their papers have been of late, one would suppose that there was hardly a democrat to be found among the "Hoosiers." But the State election has taken place, and we find that whigry is among the things that were, in Indiana. The State Sentinel says:

"Gov. Wright's majority will not fall short of 20,000, and the State ticket will be no 3000 votes behind the vote for Governor.—Cleveland Plaindealer.

The recent brilliant democratic triumphs in Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania, roused the democracy of other States, and infused new life and vigor into the party throughout the country. These victories have been celebrated with bonfires, processions and illuminations in all the principal cities and towns of the Union. A salute of 31 guns was fired by the democracy of Buffalo, on the reception of the news in that city.—Dayton Empire.

OHIO OFFICIAL.—Gov. Wood, who has just returned from Columbus, says about sixty counties have reported officially, and that the balance are fast coming in. The law requires the returns to be opened in the presence of the Governor, Secretary of State and Auditor, and that Tuesday next is the day agreed upon for the counting. Then look out for thunder! The Governor says that 20,000 is the least the democrats in Columbus will take from present appearances.

UNANIMOUSLY NOMINATED.—Old "Fuss and Feathers" in a late speech, among the many ridiculous and foolish things which his friends cannot keep him from saying, "exposing himself," calls himself the unanimously nominated whig candidate. Now who imposed on the old gentleman? He was nominated on the 55th ballot; and only by twenty-four majority over his competitors. Scott had 155, Fillmore 112, Webster 21, Crittenden 1. That's history. Instead of being the unanimous nomine, on the 7th ballot Fillmore and Webster led him 28 votes.

By the way, it has been settled satisfactorily yet whether Jones voted for the "unanimously" nominated candidate or not? We feel anxious about the point.—We don't like to see any one caught blowing hot and cold. Jones made everybody about here and in East Tennessee believe that he did vote for him. At Spring Hill he talked rather the other way. The Baner, which takes care of him, said that he didn't, but then, Jones said in New York that he did. Now this "cross and pile" that he heard it, every thing is Irish now, men, women and children, and live stock of all kinds. Indeed, by the time that Gen. Scott gets back to Washington, he will doubtless have "bit of the brogue" himself, and will probably take to the naturalization papers, in the conviction that he is, too, an Irishman. "Oh, that rich Irish brogue!" He hears nothing else, every thing is Irish now, men, women and children, and live stock of all kinds.

DEATH SURGEON.—Dr. Samuel Bard, Surgeon Dentist, offers his professional services to the citizens of Louisville. He may be found at No. 405, Jefferson st., between Second and Third. He furnishes the best of references, and we are assured that he is eminently qualified.

SHOOTING APPAREL.—A man by the name of Adam Smith, living in the upper part of the city, having quarreled with his wife on Saturday last, struck her, when she drew a pistol and shot him in the arm above the elbow, badly fracturing the same.

SHOOTING APPAREL.—A gentleman in New Orleans, worth $10,000 cash, advertises for a wife. The article must be mighty scarce down there.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR.—Very Superior.—Messrs. W. G. Stewart & Co., at their choice family grocery on Market street, between Fourth and Fifth, are in receipt of some choice buckwheat flour. We make the announcement for the benefit of housekeepers, many of whom will doubtless avail themselves speedily of some of this superior article.

EIGHT PERSONS ARRIVED HERE ON SATURDAY EVENING FROM ST. LOUIS VIA THE STAGE ROUTE AND JEFFERSONVILLE RAILROAD, IN TWO AND HALF DAYS.

Speaking.

N. Green, Democratic Elector, and John O. Bullock, Esq., will address the people at Floydsburg on Tuesday, at 2 o'clock p.m. At Lagrange, on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock, and at Hendersonville on Wednesday evening, at 2 o'clock, on the subject of the Presidential election.

Gen. Scott's Excuse for not Going to Troy.

The following is the Register's version of Gen. Scott's speech in the railroad car, in reply to the invitation to visit the city of Troy, on his way from the West:

"Gentlemen," said he, "I am on my return to Washington from a professional tour; and am traveling by a most direct and accustomed route to reach my journey's end. At various points of my tour I had the strongest temptations to turn aside and visit Indianapolis, Detroit, and other places which I had never visited at all, or should have been greatly pleased to re-visit. Deputations of citizens pressed me hard to accept their invitations, and placed steamboats and other conveyances at my disposal; but I felt that if I accepted, I should do so at the expense of my self esteem, for I should depart in so doing from the simple and straight forward line of my duty in the execution of the professional mission upon which I was sent. Therefore, though in some instances I approached within two or three hours travel of the towns and cities which I had strong temptations to visit, still I felt it my duty to turn neither to the right hand nor to the left, but to pursue the most expeditious route TO AND FROM MY DESTINATION."

This is a strange speech from one who has traveled more miles to reach Blue Lick than would be necessary to reach the extreme point in this Union, out of California and Oregon. His Trojan friends, fully aware of his gyrations in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky, must be as surprised to see the mark as Cleveland is distant from the Blue Lick.

To appreciate the extravagances, in this respect, which the General is made to utter, a word or two will suffice.

It is a mistake to suppose that it was "within the line" of Gen. Scott's duty to examine any other locality than the Blue Lick. It was not made his duty to compare the advantages of different places, and to decide between them. He had no official business in Ohio, or Indiana—at Cleveland, Columbus, Madison, or any of the numerous places he visited in those States during his Western tour. His business was to go directly to the Blue Licks, to examine and decide upon its advantages as the site of a military hospital.

Also, a resolution approving the appointment for a medical officer of the Hospital at Cleveland, was also reported a resolution allowing him to go to the orphan asylum at Cleveland.

Mr. Scott also reported a resolution allowing him to go to the orphan asylum at Cleveland.

Claims in favor of John Shattock, who was discharged from the city engineer through his services, were referred to street committee.

Mr. Scott also referred to street committee.
